

CULTURE AND SOCIETY AT

---

LULLINGSTONE
ROMAN VILLA

---

Caroline K. Mackenzie

ARCHAEOPRESS PUBLISHING LTD

Summertown Pavilion

18-24 Middle Way

Summertown

Oxford OX2 7LG

www.archaeopress.com

ISBN 978-1-78969-290-7

ISBN 978-1-78969-291-4 (e-Pdf)

© C K Mackenzie and Archaeopress 2019

Cover: Lullingstone Villa in its landscape in the later fourth century AD
(illustration by Peter Urmston). © Historic England Archive.

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying or otherwise, without the prior written permission of the copyright owners.

This book is available direct from Archaeopress or from our website www.archaeopress.com

For my parents and Jock and in loving memory of Mrs Margaret Barrowcliff MBE

Contents

List of Figures .....	ii
Preface and Acknowledgements .....	v
Chapter One: Introduction .....	1
Chapter Two: The villa within its landscape setting and the role of topography in the owner's self-representation .....	5
Landscape setting.....	5
Ancillary buildings .....	14
Circular shrine and temple-mausoleum .....	14
Granary .....	16
Comparable villas .....	20
A further case study: Chedworth .....	22
Chapter Three: The choice and use of mosaics in the fourth century villa: how the patron presented his cultural identity and status through pavements .....	24
Grand designs.....	24
The central room .....	25
The seasons .....	26
Bellerophon .....	29
The apse .....	31
Europa and the bull .....	35
The inscription .....	37
An incongruous combination? .....	40
Classical literature in other Romano-British villas.....	41
Chapter Four: Additional reconstructions of the villa .....	44
The villa within its landscape setting .....	44
The villa's interior space and decoration .....	46
Summary of reconstructions.....	52
Chapter Five: Conclusion .....	53
Bibliography.....	55
Online sources .....	57

List of Figures

Villa plan showing all the construction phases. © Historic England Archive .....	vi
Figure 1.1. Chi Rho wall-painting, Lullingstone. c. AD 380. © 2019 The Trustees of the British Museum.....	2
Figure 1.2. ‘Orantes’ wall-painting, Lullingstone. c. AD 380. © 2019 The Trustees of the British Museum.....	3
Figure 2.1. North Kent in the Roman period. From Wilson 2009: 26. © Historic England Archive. ....	6
Figure 2.2. Lullingstone Villa in its landscape in the later fourth century AD (illustration by Peter Urmston). © Historic England Archive.....	7
Figure 2.3. Dig at Otford, Church Field. 30.7.18. Photograph: by author. ....	8
Figure 2.4. Illustration of Villa c. AD 90-100 (illustration by Peter Urmston). © Historic England Archive. ....	9
Figure 2.5. Baths: view looking north-west, steps in background. Meates 1979: 203, Plate XIXa. © Kent Archaeological Society. ....	10
Figure 2.6. Baths: close-up view of steps looking west. Meates 1979: 203, Plate XIXb. © Kent Archaeological Society.....	10
Figure 2.7. The baths as they may have appeared in the late third century AD (illustration by Peter Dunn/Richard Lea). © Historic England Archive.....	11
Figure 2.8. Deep Room: niche in south wall showing painting of water-nymphs. Meates 1979: 186, plate Vd. © Kent Archaeological Society.....	11
Figure 2.9. Reconstruction of ‘Deep Room’ shown at underground level, c. AD 380 (illustration by Peter Dunn/Richard Lea). © Historic England Archive.....	12
Figure 2.10. Modern view of Darent Valley, taken in field behind Lullingstone Villa. Photograph: by author. ....	13
Figure 2.11. Modern view of Darent Valley, taken from modern road approaching the Villa. Photograph: by author. ....	13
Figure 2.12. Reconstruction drawing of Lullingstone Villa in the fourth century AD (illustration by Alan Sorrell). © Historic England Archive.....	14
Figure 2.13. Lullingstone Villa with temple-mausoleum behind, in the late third century AD (illustration by Peter Urmston). © Historic England Archive. ....	15
Figure 2.14. Granary: view looking north-east. Meates 1979: 207, Plate XXIIIa. © Kent Archaeological Society.....	17
Figure 2.15. Granary: central boxes. Meates 1979: 208, Plate XXIVa. © Kent Archaeological Society. ....	18
Figure 2.16. Middle Littleton Tithe Barn, a thirteenth century barn in Evesham, Worcestershire. © National Trust Images/Robert Morris.....	19

Figure 2.17. Remains of Great Witcombe Roman Villa, Gloucestershire. © Historic England Archive. ....	21
Figure 2.18. Reconstruction drawing of Great Witcombe Roman Villa in the fourth century AD (illustration by Ivan Lapper). © Historic England Archive.....	21
Figure 2.19. An illustration showing an aerial view of Chedworth Roman Villa as it was in its peak. © National Trust Images. ....	23
Figure 3.1. Detail: Bellerophon on Pegasus, spearing the Chimaera. c. AD 330-60. © Historic England Archive. ....	26
Figure 3.2. Detail: Summer. c. AD 330-60. © Historic England Archive. ....	27
Figure 3.3. Brading Roman Villa mosaic: Spring. © Oglander Roman Trust. ....	28
Figure 3.4. Brading Roman Villa mosaic: Summer. © Oglander Roman Trust. ....	28
Figure 3.5. Brading Roman Villa mosaic: Winter. © Oglander Roman Trust.....	28
Figure 3.6. Detail of Pegasus and the Chimaera, Hinton St Mary. Early fourth century AD. © 2019 The Trustees of the British Museum.....	30
Figure 3.7. Tombstone of Julia Velva depicting apsidal dining room, AD 200-300. (YORYM: 1998.25). © York Museums Trust (Yorkshire Museum). ....	31
Figure 3.8. Reconstruction of Lullingstone’s apsidal dining room with stibadium. c. AD 330-60 (illustration by Peter Dunn). © Historic England Archive.....	32
Figure 3.9. View across central audience chamber to apse with step (looking south). Meates 1979: 201, Plate XVIIb. © Kent Archaeological Society.....	33
Figure 3.10. View across central audience chamber to apse with step (looking north-west). Meates 1979: 201, Plate XVIIc. © Kent Archaeological Society. ....	33
Figure 3.11. Reconstruction of Lullingstone’s audience chamber and apse. c. AD 330-60 (illustration by Peter Dunn). © Historic England Archive. ....	34
Figure 3.12. Europa mosaic. c. AD 330-60. © Historic England Archive. ....	36
Figure 3.13. Detail: Cupid. c. AD 330-60. © Historic England Archive.....	36
Figure 3.14. Europa mosaic. Keynsham. Fourth century AD. © www.bathnewseum.com...	37
Figure 3.15. Otford wall-painting and inscription. Early second century AD. © 2019 The Trustees of the British Museum. ....	41
Figure 3.16. Scenes from Virgil’s Aeneid. Low Ham mosaic, fourth century AD. © Somerset Archaeological and Natural History Society and South West Heritage Trust, 2019.....	43
Figure 4.1. View of Lullingstone Roman Villa from south-east. (3D Reconstruction with Modo Software.) © Rob Sherratt .....	45
Figure 4.2. View of Lullingstone Roman Villa from north-east. (3D Reconstruction with Modo Software.) © Rob Sherratt .....	45
Figure 4.3. View of Lullingstone Roman Villa from south-west. (3D Reconstruction with Modo Software.) © Rob Sherratt .....	46

Figure 4.4. The floorplan of the whole villa. © Rod Shelton. ....	47
Figure 4.5. The front of the villa including the veranda (from the east). © Rod Shelton. ....	47
Figure 4.6. The audience chamber. © Rod Shelton. ....	48
Figure 4.7. The audience chamber, with the apsidal dining room beyond. © Rod Shelton. ....	49
Figure 4.8. The bath complex at the south of the villa, including the well. © Rod Shelton. ....	50
Figure 4.9. The house-church at the north of the villa. © Rod Shelton. ....	50
Figure 4.10. The Deep Room seen beneath the floorboards of the room above it. © Rod Shelton. ....	51

Preface and Acknowledgements

Dr David Davison at Archaeopress was instrumental in evolving my work into this final publication. I am very grateful to him for all his enthusiasm and advice and for committing to the project. Thank you also to Patrick Harris, Dan Stott, Ben Heaney and everyone at Archaeopress for all their hard work. We are delighted that we are able to publish this book in 2019 to coincide with the celebrations marking the 70-year anniversary of the commencement of excavations at the site. These celebratory events include a reunion of many of the volunteers who helped in the original excavations of this extraordinary Villa.

The origin of this publication lies in a dissertation which I completed in 2018 for a Master of Arts in Classical Art and Archaeology at King's College London. I should like to thank Dr John Pearce for all his help and guidance at that time. He introduced me to a vast and varied corpus of work on Roman Britain and patiently steered me through my research, kindly reading drafts of my dissertation and providing valuable comments. Thank you also to Dr Will Wootton for all that he taught me about mosaics, which enabled me to consider Lullingstone from a wider perspective. Dr Zena Kamash offered much encouragement and support both in relation to my dissertation and also this book.

I should like to thank Professor David Breeze for reading and commenting on an early draft of the book. Thank you to Kevin Fromings, Project Leader of Discover Roman Otford Project (DROP) for welcoming me to the dig in Church Field, just a few miles from Lullingstone, and for all his support. Thank you also to Dr Gerald Cramp, President of Kent Archaeological Society (KAS) for all his encouragement and for sharing his account of the excavations at Lullingstone (at which he volunteered while still a young schoolboy). On a specific note, I am grateful to him for clarifying that the flood to which I refer on page 10 was caused by a cloudburst.

I should also like to thank the team at Lullingstone Roman Villa, Emma Freeman (Site Manager), Alison Lowe (Historic Property Steward) and Simon Price-Johnson (Historic Property Steward) who always gave me a warm welcome at the villa and willingly shared their knowledge, resources and time.

I am grateful to the individuals, museums and societies who have kindly given permission for their images to be included. Formal credits appear with the respective images. A special thank you to Rod Shelton and Rob Sherratt for the images of their respective reconstructions of the villa. Thank you also for all the support I have received from The Friends of Brading Roman Villa, in particular David Reeves and Robert Pitts.

Most important of all, thank you to my family and especially to Grannie, my sister, Liz, my nephew, Tom, my parents, and my husband, Jock. Thank you, all, for everything.